

NEW PLAN TO END CONFLICT IN PALESTINE

Britain Asks United Nations
To Adopt Bernadotte
Suggestion For Peace
In Holy Land

FIRST ENDORSEMENT

BULLETIN
Paris, Nov. 18.—(P)—Britain formally asked the United Nations to apply the late Count Folke Bernadotte's plan to Palestine. A British spokesman said the United States delegation took part "at an official level" in drafting this proposal. The British submitted to the 58-nation political committee a resolution following the lines of the slain mediator's final report. The resolution calls for a conciliation commission of three nations to supervise the division of Palestine between Arabs and Israelis.

Paris, Nov. 18.—(P)—Britain asked the United Nations today to adopt Count Folke Bernadotte's plan to end the Palestine war.

Hector McNeill, Britain's chief delegate, told the 58-nation political committee he would submit a resolution shortly along the lines of the slain mediator's recommendations. He urged the assembly to support it.

The endorsement of the plan was the first in the committee by any major U. N. member.

The debate lasted only an hour. Speakers other than McNeill were Ecuador's David Castro of El Salvador and Paris El Khour, of Syria.

Despite the chairman's urging, no other delegates offered to speak and the meeting was recessed.

While the political committee worked slowly on the Palestine case, the general assembly went to the first of three plenary sessions scheduled for today.

The assembly had before it a Russian proposal for a one-third reduction in land, sea and air forces of the big five powers and prohibition of atomic weapons.

The Russian proposal was decisively defeated in the political committee, but the Soviet is expected to carry the fight to the floor of the assembly.

Other major questions before the assembly are the report of the trusteeship council and the problem of Arab refugees. Next to the remaining 20 matters before the group are secondary problems.

The United States has not yet told the political committee its position on the Bernadotte plan.

The chief points of the Bernadotte report are the assignment of the Negev desert in the south to the Arabs, giving western Galilee to the Jews and placing Jerusalem under U. N. control.

Israel opposes giving up the Negev area, which was given to it in the assembly partition plan of Nov. 28, 1947. Israel contends (Turn to Page Eleven)

U.S. Marine Forces In China Bolstered

Washington, Nov. 18.—(P)—The United States, bolstering its marine force in China, left open today the question of whether "circumstances" might lead to armed conflict with Communist troops.

The Navy said 1,250 Leatherstocking Marines will be sent to reinforce the 3,600-man Marine garrison at Tsingtao.

This force, said the Navy in adding details to a surprise news conference announcement by Secretary of Defense Forrestal, "will assist in the orderly evacuation of United States nationals through the port of Tsingtao."

Forrestal was asked by reporters whether the Marines "will fight the Communist armies attacking Tsingtao." That, replied Forrestal, is a matter for the State Department to decide.

The current Marine force of 600 men at Tsingtao has what is described in the Navy announcement as "supporting aircraft," probably some fighters and a few aerial transports.

The Navy already has ample facilities in the area to hurry Americans out of Tsingtao, if that becomes urgent.

Commission Clamping Down On "Buzz Boys" Of Airways

Harrisburg, Nov. 18.—(P)—The "buzz boys"—cut-ups of the airways—were the target of a sharp attack today by the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission.

Inauguration Is His Headache

From now until President Truman is sworn in, Melvin D. Hildreth will have plenty of headaches. He's general chairman of the 1949 Inaugural Committee. Every Joe and his brother who wants to see the big spectacle will be hounding him for tickets. Hildreth, a Washington, D. C., lawyer, goes over plans with his secretary, Mrs. Boyce Johnson. He promises the ceremonies will be tremendous, with a parade, air show and fireworks, besides the main event.

Grundy Organization to Keep Hands Off in Senate Contest

Harrisburg, Nov. 18.—(P)—A hands-off policy by the Joseph R. Grundy element in organization of the state senate forestalled today a possible new break between the Bristol manufacturer and Gov. James H. Duff.

G. Mason Owlett, Republican national committeeman and Grundy lieutenant, told reporters GOP State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor "is entirely satisfactory to us" as senate president.

Duff is backing Taylor for re-election. However, Senator O. J. Tallman of Allentown, the 1947 Republican majority leader in the upper chamber, announced he also is seeking the presidency. Tallman resides in the same congressional district as Grundy.

"As far as we are concerned there is no fight," Owlett told reporters a few hours after Tallman said he is "definitely a candidate."

The 35 Republican senators meet tomorrow at Hershe, to nominate the GOP candidate for the upper branch's presiding officer. The actual election, however, will not take place until the 1949 legislative meets in January.

Owlett said Senator Tallman neither consulted him nor Senator Grundy before making his announcement and noted "it is a time-honored custom for senators and members of the state house of representatives to select their leaders without outside interference."

At the same time, he declared "we are not fighting Governor Mr. Truman is flying back to Washington Sunday for a full-scale review of the peace outlook with Secretary of State Marshall and Economic Cooperation Administration Ambassador W. Averell Harriman."

His conference today with Forrestal is expected to be preliminary (Turn to Page Eleven)

Fifty Smog Victims Prepare To Win Way to N. Carolina

Donora, Nov. 18.—(P)—Fifty persons who suffered from the recent smothering fog prepared today to wing their way to North Carolina for a week's free vacation.

The travelers, all cardiac and asthma sufferers, 31 to 71 years old, were chosen by Donora health officials. More than 20 such sufferers died during four days of lethal fog.

Most of those selected for the trip were eager to go although a good time down there. I'm going free because they were afraid to 'ride in airplanes."

The trips are a gift of the Junior Chambers of Commerce at Wilmington and Wrightsville Beach. The donors are paying $2,000 in airplane fares in addition to all other expenses. They had been promised free transportation by airlines but the Civil Aeronautics Commission vetoed the plan. Only "emergency" flights can be made without payment, the CAB ruled.

"It's mighty nice of the people in North Carolina to do this for us," declared Edward Zimmerman, 61-year-old retired steelworker. "I think I'm going to have a mighty rest and enjoy the fresh air."

It'll be Zimmerman's first trip in a plane but "I don't think I'll be afraid."

Donora townsfolk generally joined in approval of the southern trip.

"The people down there certainly deserve a lot of credit," declared Town Burgess August Chabon. "I don't know how we'll ever be able to thank them."

A trained nurse from Donora will accompany the group on the plane, and J. R. Benson, Wilmington city manager, has assured medical care during the entire stay.

ROBBED OF $4100
Pittsburgh, Nov. 18.—(P)—Abe Eisner, of New York, reported the theft of $4,100 in $100 bills by a man and woman he met last night in a Grant street tavern. Eisner told police that after the tavern closed the three went to his hotel room. When they left, Eisner reported, he found the money had disappeared. Police said Eisner is in Pittsburgh to buy some commercial pipe.

Anderson said the special squad of state police aviation investigators have aided much in reducing improper flying during the past two years since their formation. The squad consists of seven men specially trained in aviation procedure. They are attached to police troops in strategic areas of the state.

Although there have been more arrests for improper flying during the past year, Anderson said the trend is gradually showing improvement. The stiff penalties meted out to violators in fines of from $50 to $200 and suspension of pilot's licenses has done much, Anderson said, to help reduce reckless flying.

Anderson said there are now about 5,000 private planes in the commonwealth and about 20,000 licensed pilots.

WILL DISCUSS FINANCES IN BERLIN CRISIS

Marshall Summons American
Financial Monetary
Experts to Advise on Currency

STUDY QUESTIONNAIRE

Paris, Nov. 18.—(P)—Secretary of State Marshall summoned American financial and monetary experts today from Washington and Berlin to advise on currency aspects of the Berlin crisis.

They will consult with Dr. Philip C. Jessup, U. S. deputy who handles the Berlin case for Marshall in the Security Council.

This step was disclosed by an American delegation source as emphasis in the blockade dispute shifted to technical aspects of the currency control problem in the former German capital.

The American experts are flying to Paris from the Treasury Department in Washington and from Gen. Lucius D. Clay's military government staff in Berlin.

The experts will have before them a questionnaire on the currency issue which Security Council President Juan A. Bramuglia of Argentina has sent to the Big Four nations.

Bramuglia is leading a Berlin compromise effort on behalf of the Council's six "neutral" nations. U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie also has initiated a study of the currency question by his own technicians. American sources said today their delegation has not yet received any specific request for definite information from Lie.

The Soviet Union has declared it will not lift the blockade unless the Soviet mark becomes Berlin's sole currency. The western powers agree, but insist the Soviet mark must be under adequate Four-Power control when it circulates within Berlin.

French officials said the chief problem facing the financial experts is whether an adequate Four-Power control of the Soviet mark within Berlin is really possible.

They asserted that this is more important than any question of simultaneous action on currency and the blockade, since once an agreement is reached behind the scenes "it should be simple to arrange the 'simultaneousness' of a settlement."

Under the Four-Power agreement on principles reached in Moscow Aug. 30, the four commanders in Berlin were to work out a currency control for the Soviet mark in Berlin. When this was done and ready for application, the blockade was to have been lifted.

Witness Gives Evidence For Judge O'Malley

Philadelphia, Nov. 18.—(P)—A defense witness for James J. O'Malley denied today that the former chief magistrate ordered State Liquor Control board agents to "get out of South Philadelphia."

The witness was Frank Pinto, a defendant in a liquor law violation case heard before O'Malley in 1947.

Lemuel B. Schofield, defense attorney, asked Pinto:

"After your case was finished, did you hear O'Malley say to the liquor agents that they should stay out of South Philadelphia, his territory, and that, if they did not, he would have their superior arrested and fined $30,000, and that he would not permit them to get any more warrants?"

Pinto replied: "He never said anything like that."

"Did you hear anything like that at all," Schofield asked.

"No sir," the witness replied.

The commonwealth previously charged—and produced witnesses to back up the allegation—that it was during Pinto's hearing that O'Malley warned the liquor agents to keep out of South Philadelphia and threatened to arrest the chief agent if the warning was ignored.

Edward A. Hovey, a former assistant district attorney, is expected to testify later.

Hovey was on the stand only yesterday because of the illness of a juror.

In calling Hovey—an assistant district attorney from 1935 to 1944—Defense Attorney Lemuel B. Schofield said he sought to prove that O'Malley had done the higher courts a good service by disposing of indictable cases in central police court with fines or dismissals instead of holding them for grand jury action.

DETECTIVE QUILTS JOB ON SMOKY CITY FORCE

Pittsburgh, Nov. 18.—(P)—District Attorney William S. Rahauer announced yesterday that county detectives mentioned by the October special grand jury as having been approached by an alleged numbers king.

Rahauer said he had accepted the resignation, "effective as of Nov. 15."

"We are sorry he is leaving," Rahauer said, "and there is nothing behind it."

Burke joined the detective force in 1936. The October grand jury mentioned him as having been approached by Phil Lange in a bribery effort. Lange later was indicted on three counts of "corrupt solicitation."

Victory In Suchow Battle Claimed By Leader Of Government Forces

660-Pound Bear Killed While Charging Boy

St. Marys, Nov. 18.—(P)—Victor Prossitt, 67, of Finleyville, told today how he shot and killed a 660-pound bear which was charging toward his son, Leo.

"I didn't know if the bear was charging Leo," said Prossitt, "but it was headed toward him and he did not see it." The younger Prossitt said the bear dropped dead about 30 feet from him.

Will Reopen Dock Strike Negotiations

New York, Nov. 18.—(P)—Negotiations of striking longshoremen and their employers will be reopened tomorrow, with the government lending a hand through a high-ranking labor peacemaker.

The meeting will be the first joint session since the Maine-to-Virginia strike started over a pay dispute.

A decision of Halifax longshoremen to handle any ship which docked at the Nova Scotia port reestablished Halifax yesterday as the busiest port on the North Atlantic coast. Special "boat trains" shuttled liner passengers to and from the crippled port of New York.

As the strike of 65,000 members of the I.L.A. gripped a 700-mile stretch of the east coast, negotiations toward settling the 12-week-old Pacific coast maritime strike moved along steadily.

A longshoremen's pay dispute is at the heart of the west coast strike also.

Economic blows in many fields continued as 123 ships were reported strike-bound in New York and about 100 in other ports.

Railroads, steamship lines, trucking companies and industries indirectly hit by the shipping stagnation laid off more workers. Many thousands of tons of cargo, including a huge amount of Marshall plan supplies, piled up.

Losses to business and industry continued to run into more millions of dollars.

DAUPHIN JAIL ESCAPE EFFORT IS THWARTED

Harrisburg, Nov. 18.—(P)—Dauphin county officials said last night that an escape plan of a county jail prisoner was thwarted when they discovered a pistol in his mattress.

District Attorney Carl B. Shelley said the pistol was thrown over the jail wall by an outside confederate on Nov. 4 and that the news of the discovery was withheld in an attempt to capture the confederate.

Truman to Renew Plea Next Year For Higher Postal Rates

Washington, Nov. 18.—(P)—President Truman will renew with vigor next year his plea for higher postal rates to help balance the budget, those in the know said today.

The Postoffice Department now seems likely to wind up $500,000, 000 in the red next June 30—an unprecedented loss which would account for more than a third of the deficit forecast for the entire government's operation this fiscal year.

Officials told a reporter privately the increases most certain to be proposed will involve second class mail—made up chiefly of newspapers and magazines.

They said the reason is that the Postoffice Department rates that category as its biggest money-loser.

They insisted the fact that a majority of the nation's press opposed Mr. Truman's election is beside the point.

To emphasize their no-retaliation contention, they recalled that the president recommended postal rate boosts in each of the last two years.

Some increases were voted by the 80th congress to go into effect on January 1. They will raise 81-cent mail stamps from five cents to six, make varying hikes in third and fourth class mail, and up rates on money orders and registered mail.

(Third class mail is made up of (Turn to Page Eleven)

DIES AT PLAY

Philadelphia, Nov. 18.—(P)—Thirteen-year-old Robert J. Reese collapsed while playing football near his home and was dead when taken to Episcopal Hospital yesterday. Police reported the boy had a bruise mark over his heart. The coroner's office is investigating the cause of death.

FARM SHOW ENTRIES

Harrisburg, Nov. 18.—(P)—Pennsylvania farmers and livestock breeders were reminded today by Miles Horst, state secretary of agriculture that entries in the 1949 Pennsylvania Farm Show must be in by Saturday. The deadline includes entries for all horses, beef cattle, dairy cattle, sheep, swine and all poultry except hoolers. Entries for that class must be filed by Dec. 15.

Turkey To Cost More This Year, And Harder To Secure

Chicago, Nov. 18.—(P)—Turkeys will cost more this year than last—if you get one.

It seems there's a shortage—more than 10 per cent fewer turkeys to go round this holiday season than in 1947. That's one reason prices are higher.

Price estimates are based on the assumption demand this year will be as strong as last year. If demand also falls off, the price should come down. Right now, wholesale trade sources consider the demand very strong.

You ought not to be too surprised if you see price tags running up to 80 or 90 cents a pound on the Thanksgiving bird at retail stores.

The price will vary from store to store, from neighborhood to neighborhood, from city to city. Some stores may even use turkeys as "loss leaders"—sell them at a loss in order to get customers to buy the trimmings in that store.

Prices in the wholesale market are a good deal higher than last year—and they're rising. A young turkey weighing 18 to 20 pounds cost 43½ to 45 cents a pound in wholesale lots at Chicago last year. Today the price for the same bird is 57 to 58 cents.

Smaller birds cost more than larger ones, because demand is concentrated on small sizes and there aren't many of them. A young hen weighing 10 to 12 pounds costs 66 to 68 cents a pound in wholesale lots today. Last year the price was 52½ to 53 cents.

The department of agriculture has estimated this year's turkey supply at 10 per cent under last year. Trade sources think the amount available for consumers will be even smaller. Above birds are being withdrawn for breeding purposes this year, they say.

Furthermore, the supply of cold storage is down about 50 per cent from a year ago.

Chief reason for the shortage is the high price of grain last spring, when the turkey feeding season got underway.

Dulles Designated As Acting Chairman of U. S. Delegation

Key West, Fla., Nov. 18.—(P)—President Truman today designated John Foster Dulles as acting chairman of the United States delegation to the United Nations in his first official post-election endorsement.

The president at the same time appointed Benjamin Cohen as chief United States delegate to the U. N. General Assembly in Paris to replace Republican Warren Austin, who has returned to the United States because of illness.

During Austin's illness, Dean Rusk, a state department official, will serve in Cohen's place as alternate delegate.

Dulles served as foreign policy advisor to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, GOP presidential nominee, when Mr. Truman defeated in the November election.

Secretary of State Marshall is returning to the United States for a full-scale review of the peace outlook with President Truman at the White House Monday.

Cohen is a former counselor for the state department.

Forrestal flew here for a talk fore-shadowing possibly historic diplomatic and defense steps to preserve the Korean peace.

Forrestal had lunch with the president. While others were in the luncheon, the two were to confer separately.

Many in the White House survey of the entire diplomatic picture.

Developments yesterday over-shadowed speculation about when Forrestal might leave the cabinet. His departure from Washington was preceded by his announcement that:

1. Marine forces are to be increased by 1,250 men at Tsingtao, China, where 3,600 are now stationed.

2. Two transports are going into Chinese ports to remove Americans from the path of advancing Communist forces.

3. He assumed the question of rearming western Europe "will come under a series of things I will take up with the president."

4. He will remain at his post as long as the president wants him, and that he is "at the service of the president."

Forrestal, just returned from an inspection of European trouble areas, said his department has prepared a budget for the three armed services within the fifteen million dollar limit set by Mr. Truman and the budget bureau.

RED ARMY IN FULL FLIGHT CHANG STATES

Spokesman Asserts 130,000
Casualties Inflicted On Communists Against
40,000 Nationalists

Nanking, Nov. 18.—(P)—The government claimed complete victory in the Suchow battle today.

Gen. Chang Lu-Shih, official military spokesman, told his weekly press conference:

"The battle for Suchow can be considered as concluded. What the communists do now is subject to complete re-education."

Chang pictured the Red forces in flight. He said government troops and planes were mopping up an area extending 30 miles around Suchow.

The spokesman asserted 130,000 casualties were inflicted on the Reds as against 40,000 suffered by Nationalists.

Even as he spoke, 1,250 American marine reinforcements prepared to rush from Guam to Tsingtao, 225 miles northeast of Shanghai, to bolster the 3,600 marines at the U. S. naval anchorage there.

Shanghai report, had a Red truck column moving toward Tsingtao from Taiman.

(U. S. Senator George W. Malone (R-Nev.) in Tokyo told The Associated Press he attended a secret conference in Tsingtao yesterday at which plans were discussed by representatives of Gen. Douglas MacArthur and navy leaders. He said he could not discuss the plans.)

Other government sources said the government won at least the opening phase of the Suchow battle against 300 veteran troops. This victory, they added, means Nanking is safe at least for a month or longer.

The government previously announced more than 1,600,000 men on both sides were involved in the battle.

More optimistic officials said the results of the past week's fighting means the ascendancy of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's once waning fortunes.

Foreign observers placed the result of the fighting along the Suchow front somewhere between the government's official claim of complete victory and the Communists' continued insistence that they still hold the initiative.

Gen. Chow Shih-Jau's rejuvenated air force furnished the balance (Turn to Page Eleven)

A. F. L. In Politics On Permanent Basis

Cincinnati, Nov. 18.—(P)—The American Federation of Labor has entered politics on a permanent basis.

Delegates to the Federation's 67th annual convention voted yesterday to collect 10 cents from each of its nearly 7,500,000 members to finance a propaganda and education drive of "Labor's League for Political Education."

The delegates acted as league members because the Taft-Hartley act forbids direct contributions.

The drive, with $750,000 working capital, will be centered in the nation's 110,000 polling precincts during the next 14 months.

The move was approved unanimously after Secretary-Treasurer George Meany told the delegates that 172 left-backed candidates had been elected to the house of representatives. Nov. 2, and 106 classed as "unfriendly" were defeated.

Meany said it was "a tremendous victory" and the "tide of reaction has been decisively turned." He cautioned, however, that "we should not become overconfident."

In other action of the day, a new move for merger with the CIO was approved.

Coach Held For Selling Horse Meat For Human Consumption

Lancaster, Nov. 18.—(P)—A former tennis coach at Franklin & Marshall College was arrested today on charges of selling meat from dead horses and cows for human consumption.

In announcing the arrest of R. Frank Keady Jr., a socially prominent figure in Lancaster county, state department of agriculture agents said it was the start of a crack down on a group of individuals accused of peddling the meat in southwestern Pennsylvania.

Keady, who was arrested by State Policeman Rufus Williams,

Name Officers For Methodist Church Project

The conference committee for "The Advance for Christ and His Church" of the Erie Methodist Conference has announced the administrative officers for forward in the movement within the conference.

Rev. Fred Hunt, Greenville, is head and chairman for the districts are: Brookville—Rev. Harold Sloan, DuBois; Jamestown—Rev. Harold A. McCurdy, Jamestown; Grove City—Rev. A. P. Middaugh, Erie, in charge of the second-year emphasis, "Our Church". Rev. J. R. Colley, Sharon, will lead the third year, "Our Ministry," and Rev. James A. Geiser, New Castle, will close the four-year program with an emphasis on "Our Mission."

The committee endorsed a proposal that Grace Methodist church at Oil City support Rev. Lyman Taylor, son of Rev. and Mrs. P. N. Taylor, Russell, as a missionary teacher in Korea, his salary $1,500 per year, also that the same church send $2,000 per year to strengthen the ministry of the church in Europe.

Another request was that the Angola Mission of West Africa be the special missionary field of the Erie Conference for the next four years.

The time schedule for "The Advance," adopted by the committee, was: Preparatory period from now until June 1, 1949, when reports of the Amsterdam conference of Churches are to be studied. 2. A great preaching mission will be carried out beginning in the fall of 1949. The third and fourth phases of the advance will be blueprinted and ready at the end of the second year of 1950. ## ACCIDENT REPORT

Six persons were killed and 240 injured in 265 accidents involving regulated motor carriers in Pennsylvania last September, a Public Utility Commission report showed. Statistics showed that two persons lost their lives and 220 others were injured in 236 bus, truck and taxi accidents during the corresponding month of 1947. Property damage amounted to $40,426 last September; $39,976 the corresponding month in 1947.

POLIO REPORT

This year's outbreak of polio in Pennsylvania—the worst in four years—will not account for the usual 10 per cent average of fatalities. Dr. J. Moore Campbell, deputy health secretary, estimated the year-end total at 800. Sixty of the states 67 counties have reported cases totaling 756.

Larder Is Well Stocked For Holiday, But Prices High

The nation's larder is well stocked with food for Thanksgiving shoppers this year—but the high prices of turkeys may startle a lot of housewives. Young hen turkeys are likely to be selling for 75 to 80 cents a pound between now and Thanksgiving as compared with about 50 cents last year.

As usual, you can get more meat for your money buying the heavier birds which usually cost about 10 cents a pound less for birds of 16 pounds or over.

The price of choice gobblers may go even higher as the big dinner eat approaches, trade circles say. Gobblers, turkey prices are the most unpredictable in the food industry. It demand for the traditional bird stays high despite the cost, the coming week may see the supply of small turkeys decline so rapidly that prices may well go over the 80-cent level.

Turkey production this year was the smallest in a decade, an estimated 31,700,000 birds as against 11,221,000 in 1945. The crop is about 10 per cent under last year, and poultry buyers say the biggest drop has been in birds under 16 pounds. Thus, if the small turkeys sold this Thanksgiving in the expected numbers, Christmas may find supplies restricted largely to heavy toms, with the young hens at an unprecedented premium.

However, this year's gobblers are generally expected to be of fine quality than a year ago. Garnett Gabriel, chief of A. & P. food stores' poultry department, says they are a far cry from the narrow-breasted game birds hunted by our Puritan forefathers. Scientific breeding and development has molded a compact, broad-breasted bird, designed to fit easily into modern roasting ovens," he said.

Sales of packaged frozen turkeys promise to set new records this year. A spokesman for Birds-E-All, a national chain of frozen foods, the nation's largest processor of frozen birds, says its prices are expected to show a comparatively small increase over last year, especially in New York State, Boston, Chicago, Detroit, Kansas City, Milwaukee, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Washington and Philadelphia.

As for the trimmings, a near-record cranberry crop, heavy supplies of citrus fruits and a bumper crop of California celery point to three attractive holiday offerings. Supplies of potatoes, turnips, onions, winter squash and sweet potatoes are ample. Pickle production was about 5 per cent under last year, but still well above the average. Olives are plentiful in all sizes, and pumpkin for that traditional Thanksgiving pie is abundant, both fresh and canned.

Prices of roots as a whole this week remained close to last week's levels, averaging roughly the prices of a year ago, while the wholesale average eased slightly.

Amusements

Double Feature Attraction at The Library Theatre Sunday, Monday, Tuesday

In "June Bride," Warner Bros.' hilarious comedy, which stars Bette Davis and Robert Montgomery, the First Lady of the Screen indulges in her first light-hearted role in almost eight years.

"June Bride," which comes Sunday, Monday, Tuesday to the Library Theatre, is, in fact, only the fourth comedy role that Bette has played in 57 motion pictures. Her other comedies were "The Man Who Came to Dinner," "It's Love I'm After," and "The Bride Came C.O.D."

This is the first time that Bette and Montgomery have appeared together on the screen, though they did work together in a radio program once. Also many years ago they were fledglings at the same time at the summer theatre in Dennis, Mass.

Bette's role in "June Bride" is that of an editor of a magazine which specializes in the American home point of view. Montgomery plays the part of a former foreign correspondent, famous, cynical and world-weary.

And on the same but an exciting western hit "The Untamed Breed" starring Sonny Tufts and Barbara Britton. And filmed in all the beauty of cinecolor.

Boyle Calls United Nations Most Thrilling Story Ever

New York—(P)—Are you awake?

Are you hep to what is going on in the United Nations? Can you astonish your friends with your easy command of diplomatic terms?

Do the people who used to laugh when you sat down at the piano now hold back their hoots until you try to pronounce plenipotentiary?

Well, there is a way to end all that. No longer need you babble with the rabble about simple subjects like baseball, the structure of the atom, or the eternal whether about the weather.

You, too, can talk about the United Nations, the most thrilling story of our times. You too, can be the life of the party as you hold your listeners spellbound with fluent word pictures of the problems and pitfalls that beset a one-world government.

Understanding the United Nations is as simple as A-B-C. Or, rather, it is as simple as learning your ABC's all over again—and backwards.

To help pierce the fog of phrases and phrases that erupt from the U. N. sessions you merely need a dictionary of the new diplomatic language generated there.

Somewhere lost in every group of words used by the statesmen is a meaning—something someone is trying to say. The words only need to be translated to be understood.

Jury Returns Guilty Verdict In Burglary

Franklin, Nov. 18—After having the case only 24 minutes, the jury which tried Eugene O'Shea, 42, of Titusville and Hey Brewer, 33, of Corry for burglary of the Slye farm implement store at Seneca on August 13, 1948, returned a verdict of guilty at 2:42 Wednesday afternoon.

The defendants were remanded to jail and probably will be sentenced next week. Their attorneys may make motions Thursday for a new trial and these may cause a delay in sentencing.

The defense rested its case at 9:20 a. m. after Corry witnesses had been called to identify two table knives which were found by police in Brewer's car. Brewer, on the stand Tuesday, testified that the knives had been left in his car following a picnic and that he had placed them in the glove compartment.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Patterson said they had gone in Brewer's car to a picnic near Sugar Grove on August 7 and they identified the knives as their property. John Knobs said he had been on the same picnic and recalled seeing such knives at that time.

Mrs. Hattie Brewer of Corry, mother of the defendant, said she received a call from her son between 7:30 and 7:45 a. m. August 14 and that he had told her to report his car as having been stolen. She testified that she told her husband, Corrie Brewer, who is street commissioner of Corry, to report the matter to the State Police.

Rebuttal testimony designed to refute testimony of Brewer and O'Shea that they had been struck by police officers was offered by Cpl. D. A. Gehr, Titusville Police Chief Edgar Alderman, Sgt. Fobes, Pvt. Kenneth McCoy, and Sgt. Mathias. Similar testimony was also given by Myron Kerr, Seneca farm owner, and John W. Slye, proprietor of the Slye Farm Implement Co.

Gerald McGill, attorney for O'Shea, and J. R. Heyison, attorney for Brewer, addressed the jury before the noon hour and District Attorney Daniel Shelly made his address immediately upon convening of court at 1 o'clock. Judge Lee A. McCracken took 40 minutes in addressing the jury.

So herewith is presented a glossary of the more common phrases employed at the United Nations which should make its debates crystal clear to everybody:

Truce—Something which is stranger than friction.

Sovereignty—A thing every nation thinks every other nation except itself ought to give up.

Veto—A device with five handles for getting rid of hot potatoes without loss of dignity.

Negotiations—A type of conference known in baseball as "a rube."

Bloc—A group of dissident nations whose leader is known to the other side as a "bloc-head."

Peace—This is what all the fighting is about.

The foregoing are general terms. There follows a strictly Russian glossary:

War monger—A nation that won't tell you how to make an atom bomb.

Monger—One who mongs. An insane man you can't sell on the idea he is entirely wrong and you are entirely right.

Petty bourgeois—One who has three meals a day—and enjoys them.

Bourgeois—One who could afford to eat four meals a day if he wanted to.

Fascist obstructionist—A guy who wants to vote in private.

Trotskyite obstructionist—Any Russian who isn't Russia except on a government expense account.

Rightist obstructionist—A right-handed Trotskyite.

Leftist obstructionist—A search fails to reveal this term exists in the Russian language of today.

Counter-revolutionary—A man who counts revolutions.

Fascist—A non-communist.

Monarcho-Fascist—A non-communist with a royal flush.

Deviationist—A man who couldn't swallow communism all at one gulp.

National deviationist—A Yugoslav hotfoot.

Rightist nationalist deviationist—The politburo still hasn't figured out anyone mean enough to call this.

Imperialist—Anyone who objects to Russian expansion.

Capitalist Imperialist—The same, in spades.

Capitalist exploiter—A popcorn stand owner who butters his product—but only puts oil in the machine.

Russell Girl Scout Units Have Service

Russell, Nov. 18—The investment service of the Girl Scouts and Brownies, held in the Methodist church, had a very large attendance of members and parents. After the opening song, "America," Rev. Taylor welcomed the parents and introduced Scout representatives from Warren: Miss White, Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. Darling, who spoke briefly.

The occasion marked the 16th anniversary of the Girl Scouts here and honored the newly-organized Brownie troop of 24 members, who received their pins. The Girl Scouts formed a procession and introduced eight new members, who were also presented pins.

The service closed with a prayer, and refreshments were served to more than 80 in the church basement. Mrs. Frances Lewis is Girl Scout leader and Mrs. Lillian Eversington leader for the Brownies.

The Firemen's auxiliary Halloween party and meeting was enjoyed by the 32 members present. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Glenn Martin and Mrs. Chester Anderson for their costumes. In the games, prizes went to Mrs. Baxter and Mrs. Audrey Fox. Mrs. Kirby, dressed as a gypsy told fortunes. The hostesses, Mrs. Hazel Thompson, Mrs. Kate Van Orsdale, Mrs. Mildred Shield, Mrs. Mary Schrecongost and Mrs. Edna Safford, served refreshments. The next meeting will be held on the evening of November 24th.

The last meeting of the F.E.F. Club was held at the home of Mrs. Philip Schlick at Silver Creek, with a tureen dinner.

The members of the Methodist Sunday school board teachers and several friends tendered Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Branstrom, who were recently married, a party at the Methodist church, with a six o'clock supper. The tables were decorated with yellow and white mums, and favors and decorations were in keeping of Thanksgiving. Mr. and Mrs. Branstrom received many gifts.

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Branstrom were honored at a chicken dinner at the Schwab camp, near Hearts Content, by the Russell school teachers, their husbands and wives. Two former Russell high school teachers were also present, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huntley and Mrs. Harriett Engle. The honored couple received a lovely gift.

Next Monday evening at eight o'clock there will be initiation of a class of candidates at the Lodge. All members are urged to be present.

Albert Lester Shame, of Buffalo and Martha August Jenckel, of Buffalo, were united in marriage by Justice of the Peace J. A. Van Orsdale, November 12 at eight o'clock.

Next Saturday afternoon at 1:30 at Voty's store, Mrs. Claude Perigo and her group of the Ladies Aid will hold a bake sale.

The regular meeting of the A. Number One Club was held at the home of Mrs. Alice Putnam, North Warren, with a dinner served at noon. Covers were laid for 18. Besides the members, four visitors were present, Mrs. Crain, Mrs. Bogart, Mrs. Loper and Mrs. Gardner.

IMMORTAL GETTYSBURG ADDRESS

Four score and five years ago Friday, November 19, at Gettysburg, President Abraham Lincoln made a faulty prediction. Said he: "The world will little note nor long remember what we say here."

Tomorrow, thousands of Americans who do not and remember will assemble at the monument in the Soldiers' National Cemetery, on the site of which Lincoln delivered the immortal Gettysburg Address. Speeches will be made. The Freedom Train, with its inspiring cargo of historic documents, will visit the battlefield community for the day.

The event will commemorate the cemetery dedication and the Lincoln speech of 85 years ago, notes the National Geographic Society. That the speech is now inseparable from the heroic deeds of the battlefield is shown in the design of a new three-cent stamp which will have its first sale at Gettysburg on the anniversary day. Picturing Lincoln, it quotes "that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

To Lincoln, Edward Everett, orator at the cemetery dedication, wrote on the following day: "I should be glad if I could flatter myself that I came as near to the central idea of the occasion in two hours as you did in two minutes." But Lincoln's listeners at the time were disappointed because of the shortness of his speech.

The war's end at Appomattox was still 17 months in the future when Lincoln and Everett spoke at Gettysburg four months after the intense fighting there. Historians, however, now generally describe Gettysburg as the war's turning point.

The battle was fought July 1, 2, and 3, 1863. The Confederate charge of 15,000 men spearheaded by General Pickett's division, briefly held Bloody Angle on Cemetery Ridge in the afternoon of the third day of battle. A monument designates this as Highwater Mark, where the tide of Confederacy "swept to its crest, paused, and then receded."

Some 160,000 men had descended on the environs of the little town of 2,000 in the fertile, rolling hills of Pennsylvania near the Maryland line. About 88,000 troops from 18 states represented General Meade's Union Army of the Potomac; 75,000 men from 12 states formed General Lee's Army of Northern Virginia.

The first two days of fighting favored the South, but brought the Union forces to strategic hilltop positions along Cemetery Ridge. More than 50,000 men were counted as killed, wounded, or missing in the three-day battle.

In 1895, the principal battlefield area of about one square mile was taken over by the Government as the Gettysburg National Military Park. By that time, 500 monuments, tablets, and markers were in place, erected by the states, regimental associations, and other organizations.

In 1913, more than 7,000 military tents were pitched on the battlefield for a joint 50th anniversary observance by veterans of the Blue and the Gray.

On July 3, 1938, the Eternal Light Peace Memorial, built of Alabama limestone and Maine marble, was dedicated to "Peace Eternal in a Nation United." More than 1,800 veterans attended the 75th anniversary reunion at that time.

Today, the expanding area of the national park covers four square miles of land.

There is talk that the Dixiecrat electors may ignore their pledges and cast their ballots for Mr. Truman. Sen. Glen Taylor, who left his party to be Henry Wallace's running mate, has offered to help the Democrats organize the new Senate. And a lot of October's lukewarm Trumanites are trying now to give the impression that they were with the President all the way. So, for a finale, there is one more surprise in this most surprising election: Who ever saw a situation before where everybody waited until the vote was counted and the candidate was in before climbing on the bandwagon?

For some reason or other complaints about soot in the air have been few and far between since that announcement that an engineer was investigating the nuisance.

Less than a week to make up your mind whether it'll be turkey, chicken, pork, veal or just plain cold slices.

Lots of young fellows love driving beneath the harvest moon. Others are bashful.

A Florida golf club gave members turkeys as tournament prizes. That's one way to get a birdie.

Too much time is spent wishing for things we could have if we didn't spend so much time wishing.

Here And There

We note in the files of fifty years ago that Warren and Titusville High school engaged in a contest November 18, 1898. Of the game one of the Warren papers said: "The Warren High School boys defeated the Titusville eleven Saturday in a closely contested and well-played game. Lytle and Mason each made a touchdown for Warren, but the attempt to kick a goal was a failure both times. The local team made most of its gains by bucking through the line while the visitors made some large gains by running their halfbacks around the ends. Their only touchdown was made in this manner. They kicked a goal, thus giving them six points to Warren's ten. The afternoon was a miserable one, a cold, drizzling rain prevailed much of the time to the discredit of the large crowd of spectators. A return game will be played at Titusville on Thanksgiving day."

In the issue of the following day we find this comment: "The Titusville Herald complains of the treatment the high school football team received here Saturday. It alleges that Warren played two trailed the bruin for a short distance and when he came upon it found had climbed a tree and was brunt dead, lodged in the crotch of two limbs. Gifford and his companion then climbed the adjacent tree and freed the bear by lifting its hips out of the vice-like trap and then lowering it to the ground. It weighed 150 pounds. . . . The Bradford Bowling Association has fired a broadside at City Council there in the bowlers' fight to abolish the ten percent municipal amusement tax on the keeping sport in 1949. A protest petition signed by 2,000 Bradford and area residents, outlines the attitude of the protestants which claims among other things that bowling is not an amusement but a participating recreation. . . . The average Pennsylvania forest fire in 1947 burned 31.9 acres, according to a survey just released by the American Forest Products Industries. . . . This figure compared with a national average of 118 acres per fire and is probably due to the excellent forest fire protection measures set up by the Department of Forests and Waters.

It's Your Fight, Tool

Bing Crowley was "beefing" the other day about all that Our Town's doing in the way of sending food and clothes to Europe. Bing felt that those struggling democracies should look after themselves.

But most agreed with Judge Cunningham who said: "So long as any family or individual in Europe is helping hold the line for freedom—against the forces of intolerance—it's common sense, and common decency, to help 'em."

Because that's everybody's fight: To see that individual freedom is preserved in every aspect, big or little—whether it's the right to vote, or the right to enjoy a temperate glass of beer or ale with friends.

And from where I sit, no liberty's too small to overlook. Because the minute one small freedom is threatened, all the others are in jeopardy—just as the minute one small country loses freedom, all its neighbors are in danger!

Political Experts Are Trying To Explain Election Results

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington—(P)—Some of the political experts who called the shot wrong on President Truman's election are back in business, explaining now why Mr. Truman won.

Labor did it, says one. The farm vote did it, says another.

Actually, there's no single answer to the election.

True, labor supported Mr. Truman because it was so: at the Republicans for passing the Taft-Hartley act.

And undoubtedly labor was a strong factor, maybe even the deciding one, in many places.

But Mr. Truman lost both Pennsylvania and Michigan where labor is strong, although—

In Michigan the Democrats elected a governor and gained two house seats in Congress and in Pennsylvania they won 16 house seats where they had had only five.

While in other states like Illinois and Ohio, the labor vote may have made the difference in giving those states to Mr. Truman—he still wouldn't have won them if the non-labor people hadn't backed him, too.

And mid-western farmers surprised the experts by voting for Mr. Truman.

But was their only reason—as it's reported to be—their fear the Republicans wouldn't keep up farm prices if they won?

What about the personal reasons of some of the farmers, some of the labor people, and those non-farm and non-union millions who voted for Mr. Truman? For example, people like these:

The ones who voted a straight Democratic ticket simply because they always have voted that way, and their families before them.

And those whom Mr. Truman pumped full of fear of Wall Street, or a bust, if the Republicans won.

And the ones who admired Mr. Truman for his uphill fight and gave a sympathy vote to the underdog because they didn't see much other ground on which to choose between the candidates.

Or those who approved his promised program, which is a new deal program, or those who accepted Mr. Truman's description of the Republicans as a bunch of do-nothing obstructionists.

Or those who resented what they thought was Dewey's coldness and his failure to state his case clearly.

Or those who felt insulted because they looked upon what he said as pious generalities and platitudes.

Or those who voted against Dewey because he had a mustache.

YOUR FORESTER

L. E. STOTZ

Kipling once wrote, "East is east and west is west, and never the twain shall meet."

Now at the U. S. Forest Service Institute of Forest Genetics in California, eastern white pine is meeting western white pine in a cross breeding experiment which offers real possibilities for the development of a hybrid strain which will embody the best characteristics of the eastern and the western white pines.

All you have to do to convince yourself that white pine is no longer a common place material is to go to your local lumber yard and price a few boards. You will not be too well impressed with the quality either.

Our original stands of virgin white pine were from 200 to 500 years old. Most of these virgin stands, even in the west, are now gone and we become impatient if it takes 80 to 100 years to grow a merchantable stand again.

The experiments to date indicate that cross-bred white pine greatly exceeds either parent in growth rate. Seeds have produced hybrids which at the age of 4½ years are twice as tall and three times as heavy as either parent at the same age. Assuming that this growth rate would continue, a pine fit for sawing into lumber could be grown in from 40 to 50 years as compared with a minimum of 80 to 100 years formerly required for either eastern or western white pine to reach harvest size under good growing conditions.

It takes much longer to cross breed trees than it does field crops, such as corn, but there is no more reason to be satisfied with slow growing, poor quality native trees if volume growth can be doubled and quality improved by the development of hybrids, than it would be to go back to planting ancient forms of maize, used by the Indians, in preference to hybrid corn.

In the tree farms of the future, hybrids of many species of trees may be grown to produce better quality, fast growing timber to serve the needs of an expanding population on lands now lying idle and tax delinquent.

Candlelight Church Wedding Unites Ethelyn L. Merritt-Albert L. Jackson

A beautiful candlelight wedding uniting in marriage Miss Ethelyn Lorraine Merritt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Merritt, 306 Lincoln avenue, and Albert Lloyd Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Jackson, 212 Canton street, was held at the Calvary Baptist church at 8:00 p. m., Friday, November 12th.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. C. L. Wessman before an altar decorated with white tapers in double candelabra, palms and baskets of white gladioli and white mums. The sanctuary was beautifully lighted with white tapers at each window and along the aisle.

The Misses Ruth and Jean Danielson sang "O Promise Me," de Koven; "I Love You Truly," Bond; and "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte. Besides the Bridal Chorus from Wagner's "Lohengrin" and Recessional from "Midsummer Night's Dream" by Mendelssohn, Miss Margaret Black played at the organ "In the Garden of Tomorrow," Deppen; "Song of Songs," Moya; "Liebestraum," Dusz; "On Wings of Song," Mendelssohn and the Meditation from "Thais," Massenet. During the ceremony she played "O Perfect Love," by Barby.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with a long fitted bodice with seed pearl embroidery, a sweetheart neckline, long tight sleeves pointed over the hands and a bouffant skirt ending in a long court train. Her finger veil of illusion net cascaded from a coronet of seed pearls. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. Her arm bouquet of white roses was centered with a detachable white rose corsage, which she wore later with her traveling ensemble, a suit of forest green, with brown accessories.

Her maid of honor, Miss Marjorie Lackey, wore a dress of aqua taffeta, fashioned with a sheer yoke, a bertha of taffeta, short sleeves, a fitted bodice and a full skirt. She wore three-quarter length mitts of matching material and a yellow fingertip veil of illusion falling from a tiara of yellow roses. She carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses.

Mary-Lou Jackson, youngest sister of the bridegroom, was the flower girl. She wore a dress of yellow taffeta, with a square neckline, short puffed sleeves and a full long hooped skirt edged with a ruffle. She carried a basket of pink roses, yellow daisies and white mums and wore a tiara of yellow daisies in her hair.

Kenneth Johnson, cousin of the bride, was the ring bearer. Marvin Merritt, brother of the bride, was best man and the ushers were George Jackson, brother of the bridegroom and Calvin Merritt, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Merritt chose for her daughter's wedding a black dress with matching accessories and wore a corsage of red roses. Mrs.

Jackson chose a grey dress with black accessories and wore a corsage of red roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, 125 guests were received in the church parlors. The bride's table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake, with white wedding bells and a miniature bride and groom on the top. White tapers completed the table appointments. Preceding the serving, Mrs. Myron L. Rydholm sang "Bless This House," in tribute to the bride couple and their new home. Brief remarks were given by Rev. C. L. Wessman and Myron L. Rydholm congratulating the new couple.

Following a wedding trip to Pittsburgh, the couple are at home at 317 Jackson avenue. The bride attended Warren public schools and is employed by the New Process Company. I. Jackson graduated in the class of 1947 and is employed at the Pennsylvania Furnace and Iron Company.

50th Anniversary Of Fred Bogarts Junior Play Is Friday Evening

Russell, Nov. 18—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bogart celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon and evening at their home on State street, with over 100 relatives and friends calling to extend congratulations to the honored couple.

The dining room was beautifully decorated for the occasion and the table was centered with a large wedding cake, yellow mums and candles.

A lovely mirror with gold frame was presented to the couple and many other gifts received included a purse of money. J. A. Van Orsdale read an original poem.

The affair was arranged by the couple's two children, Mrs. June Wedlock and Robert Bogart. The honored ones also have two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Relatives were present from Jamestown, North Warren, Warren, Frewsburg, Russell and vicinity.

A melodrama, "For Her Child's Sake," will be given by the class of 1950 in the high school auditorium tomorrow at 8:00 p. m. This is a chance for you to see a real old-fashioned melodrama again! It promises to be very amusing as the poor heroine weeps out her plight, and the villain stands ready to heap shame and misery upon her!

What would you do if suddenly you found yourself alone and friendless in a house where you knew you were a wanted, black hearted villain plotting your downfall? Come and see how the innocent young heroine triumphs over all her hardships and is happily united with her manly hero, Fairfax Kisslebergh.

The hats of all the American presidents from Grant to Truman ranged in size from 7 3/8 to 7 3/4.

Thanksgiving Union Service At Clarendon

Clarendon, Nov. 17.—Announcement is made that on Wednesday evening, November 24, a union Thanksgiving service will be held in the Methodist church, with Rev. C. C. Van, of the Evangelical United Brethren church, delivering the message. The service will begin at 7:30 o'clock and all interested are cordially invited.

Mrs. Grace McBride visited friends in Olean, N. Y., recently. Members of the WSCS met in the Methodist church parlors Tuesday evening, with refreshments served by Mrs. Mary Campbell and her committee.

The Philatelic Bible class held its November meeting in the Methodist church parlors, with 11 members and one guest present. Devotions were conducted by Evelyn Meley, who took for her subject "Love". The business meeting was opened by the president, names were handed in for the birthday calendar, and plans were made for the Christmas party and dinner which is to be held in the church on Tuesday evening, December 14th at 6:30, at which time gifts will be exchanged. The class was glad to welcome a new member, Mrs. Margaret McBride, who is now making her home here. The program committee, Edna Rader and Dorothy Mottern, entertained with an interesting Bible Quiz following which a dainty lunch was served by the hostesses, Ethel Dirling and Sadie Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schneider have returned home after having spent two weeks visiting at the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schneider, Jr., in Tulsa, Okla.

Truman Requests Aid For Homeless In Proclamation

Washington — (AP) — President Truman has proclaimed Thursday, Nov. 25, as Thanksgiving Day. He urges citizens to "render generous assistance to the hungry and homeless in other lands, thus renewing our devotion to the cause of good-will among men."

The President asked divine guidance in helping to safeguard the right to live in freedom and peace.

The text of the proclamation: "As the traditional day of Thanksgiving approaches, our thoughts incline, as in previous years, to the richness of our blessings. The spiritual endowments of our country are undiminished; we may, as always, walk as free men unafraid. Our harvests have been bountiful, our production of goods abundant. Our resources have permitted us to aid the needy and helpless of other lands.

"We are privileged to participate in international efforts to advance human welfare. We are profoundly grateful for the existence of an international forum where differences among nations may be submitted to world opinion with a view of harmonious adjustment.

DUKE AMONG FIRST

Durham, N. C. — (AP) — Duke University was one of the first southern institutions to take up intercollegiate football. John Franklik Crowell, president of the school — then known as Trinity College — organized the first squad when he came to Trinity from Yale in 1888. North Carolina and Wake Forest organized teams about the same time but they patterned their game along the lines of rugby, using a perfectly round ball. Trinity played the game as Yale played it, using an oval ball with more rushing than kicking.

Brussels sprouts, for holiday meals, may be cooked whole or quartered. Be sure to remove wilted and discolored top leaves before washing; the tough core-like center end should be snipped off, too.

Assy Geneva College Quintet Topples Warren Bulldogs, 47 to 37, Exhibition Tilt At Beatty Gym

Geneva College lived up to its long-standing reputation for Class basketball squads when the Covenanters topped the Warren Bulldogs 47 to 37, before a fair-sized crowd in Beatty gym last night.

The Bulldogs started off with a bang, and got a 12-12 jump on Geneva Falls crew by the end of the first quarter. Then Geneva's faking and smooth dribbling, plus spirited battling for control of the ball on rebounds, paid off big dividends that enabled the visitors to score the Warren Indians in the next three stanzas.

In 22-21 scoring at half-time, Geneva grabbed the lead immediately after intermission and were headed. The Geneva attack was led by Cable, bulky six foot one from Alliquippa, who scored seven times on arches from midfloor for 14. His team mate, John Milich, a young youth who led the Geneva team last year with 247 points, tracked up five baskets and 12 points.

PRICES CUT
Hardy, coach of the Warren Bulldogs, today announced a slash in the admission price for all future basketball games in Beatty gym. The new price will be $1 for students, and 50 cents for students. Both prices include the admission for the two exhibition tilts against Westminster and Geneva Colleges was $1, including tax, with no tickets being sold.

Bivins Tough Louis Admits After Battle

Cleveland, Nov. 18.—(P)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis labels Jimmy Bivins the toughest opponent he has faced so far on his exhibition tour.

"I don't know why he shouldn't be a contender if he gets serious about his training," Louis said in his dressing room last night after engaging in a six-round decision affair with the Cleveland negro.

"He threw two good right hand punches and I knew I was hit, but they weren't hard enough to bother me," the champion added. "Any one who fights him has to be very careful."

With both fighters using 12-ounce gloves instead of the regulation eight, Bivins opened a cut above Louis' left eye in the second round. Joe received the wound originally Nov. 8 when he accidentally bumped heads with Johnny Shkor in an exhibition at Boston.

Upset Possible In Pitt-State Contest

Pittsburgh, Nov. 18.—(P)—The unheard-of Pitt Panthers are having their best football season since the days of the late Jock Sutherland.

That's bad news for unbeaten Penn State, the Panther foe next Saturday.

Virtually the same team that won only one game in 1947 has captured five this season while dropping three. The last time a Pitt eleven won that many games was back in 1939—the first year after Sutherland's departure and Pitt's emphasis on "pure" football.

The years between have been both lean and bitter but now the worst seems to be over. The jungle cats are looking forward to an opportunity to topple Penn State's unbeaten Lions Saturday.

Conn Insists Macon Protest Just "Mixup"

Oklahoma City, Nov. 18.—(P)—Billy Conn, who wants another crack at his third-round knockout of Joe Louis, says his misunderstanding with the Savannah, Ga., boxing commission was just "an unfortunate mixup."

The commission sought Tuesday to have the Pittsburgh boxer suspended from the ring on grounds that he defaulted on a verbal contract to fight Whitey Berler of New Orleans.

Conn says he wasn't even consulted about the bout and didn't sign any kind of agreement.

Conn started out on a comeback jaunt Monday night by winning a ninth-round technical knockout over Mike O'Dowd at Macon, Ga.

No Winner In Marienville Grouse Trials

Marienville, Nov. 18.—(P)—Judges called off the sixth annual grand national grouse championship yesterday because they couldn't find a dog worthy of bearing the title.

On 35 dogs entered, only three ran yesterday in second series work. They were Burton's Fleet-foot Ginger, owned by Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Burton, Pittsburgh; Chief General, owned by W. Lee White, Newark, Conn.; and Flora Sky, owned by Sam R. Light, Punxsutawney, Pa.

Judges were Bill McCarty, Ford City, Pa.; Dr. C. W. Harrigan, Millinocket, Me., and Ted Blodgett, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Once before—in 1945—judges failed to declare a winner in the national championship.

Drive Against Leaving Keys In Ignition

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—Drive against motorists' carelessness in leaving keys in their cars, which accounts for 90 per cent or more of all car thefts, is the principal theme of a new nationwide radio contest to be launched November 18 with participation by the American Automobile Association and affiliated clubs, the A. A. A. reported today.

"The contest, with a factory-fresh new car and a year's motor club membership as prizes, will be featured on the mystery and adventure program, 'Adventures of the Thin Man' heard Thursday nights at 9:30 p. m. over the Mutual Network," said the announcement.

"It involves the fictional theft of a car from Nick Charles, hero of the series; a brief description of the car will be given over the air with additional clues in each succeeding program. A car answering the description will be driven over the roads somewhere in the U. S. and the first person to spot it will be the contest winner."

"Throughout the contest and related dramatization there will be stress on the fact that with few exceptions the cars stolen are those with keys left in the ignition switch and the car doors unlocked; that failure of motorists to guard their cars encourages 'joyriding' by teen-agers and contributes to juvenile delinquency; and that, under some circumstances, a car owner can be held responsible when his stolen car injures a pedestrian or causes other damage."

AGAINST THE LAW TO IMPORT A LIVE BEAR

Harrisburg, Nov. 17.—(P)—It's now against the law to import a live bear into Pennsylvania except for menagerie, educational or zoological purposes.

The State Game Commission was imposed "as a safety precaution and humane measure."

It added, "It is well known that wild black bears raised or held in captivity for any length of time lose much of their fear of man and, further, are unlikely or unable to adapt themselves to an existence in the wild if they are later released."

Body and fender bolts on a new car are inclined to work loose, and should be tightened at regular intervals.

Will Observe
Anniversary
At Gettysburg

Harrisburg — Special activities honoring the 83rd anniversary of Lincoln's famed Gettysburg Address will be presented on November 19 at the Soldiers' National Cemetery at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, says the Department of Commerce vacation and recreation bureau.

Under the sponsorship of the Lincoln Fellowship and the Gettysburg Freedom Train Committee, ceremonies will be held in the area where the decisive battle of the Civil War was fought July 1, 2 and 3, 1863. Morning events will center about the Freedom Train, which will be stationed behind Meade's School and opened for public inspection November 19 and 20. Here Attorney General Tom Clark will speak at 10 a. m., November 19, and officially start the train on its second tour.

Gov. Duff issued a proclamation urging that President Lincoln's Gettysburg Address be read in the public schools and other public assemblies in Pennsylvania on "Dedication Day," Friday, Nov. 19.

At noon, a parade will proceed to the Soldiers' National Cemetery where Oscar L. Chapman, Undersecretary of Interior, will be the principal speaker and will deliver his remarks from the same location as Lincoln did in November 19, 1863. After the address, John L. Lawler, Third Postmaster General, will sell the first issued sheet of stamps honoring Lincoln and his Gettysburg Address to the Lincoln Fellowship.

Colored blue, the stamp has a torch on the right side with the words "The Government of the people, for the people, and by the people." At the top on the left is the three cent denomination mark with the bust of Lincoln below and across the bottom of the stamp are palm leaves.

Two presidents or ex-presidents have died in the same year three times in U. S. history: Adams and Jefferson in 1826, Van Buren and Tyler in 1862, and McKinley and Benjamin Harrison in 1901.

One morning when the First Lady was on one of her inspection tours she noticed that the second-story floor sagged about two inches below the wall. She reported new electrical wiring was installed by the electricians just drilled holes through the supporting beams. The plumbers drilled more holes through the beams when they put in a new heating system. Then more holes for a communications system and still more for a ventilating system.

As Reynolds puts it, "the second-floor supports probably look more like Swiss cheese than they do wood."

In addition to becoming dangerously weak, the wood had dried out, making the White House a real fire trap.

When the sad shape of the second floor was reported to the President he decided to take a few precautions for the safety of his family, himself and the staff, but not to do anything drastic until after election. Fire fighting apparatus was increased and only 15 persons at one time were permitted in the President's second-floor study.

He did get out on the balcony a couple of times, however.

Now PBA is handling the problem with typical government thoroughness. A careful survey, at a cost of $50,000, is being made to determine how much the remodeling job is going to cost. When this is done an estimate will be handed to Congress.

Commissioner Reynolds admits that the final cost might come to $1 million. That would be a deluxe job, including the installation of all-steel beams plus cleaning up after the carpenters.

In about 1950, Reynolds estimates, the President will have a second floor every bit as good as the second-floor balcony.

Trumans Will Move While
Repairs Are Being Made

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
Washington—(NEA) — A good second-floor balcony isn't any good if the second floor isn't any good. And that's why the Truman family is moving across the street. It all started when the President thought it might be nice to have a balcony on the White House. He just wanted to do what a couple of million other Americans do of a summer evening, relax on the back porch. So what if his back it through channels to the Public Buildings Administration. A few days later Margaret noticed that one of the legs of a piano had quietly settled about a foot into the floor. She also dropped this information into the hopper for PBA.

Then the President, staring moodily at the ceiling one night in his second-floor study, noticed that one of the chandeliers appeared to be defying gravity at an angle of 10 degrees. Another memo to PBA.

Other strange phenomena were observed by the servants. Round objects rolled off flat tables. Loud creaking noises sometimes woke up all the occupants of the executive mansion. Pictures began to hang at peculiar angles.

A month or so later when the flow of information through the channels reached PBA, Commissioner W. E. Reynolds, a "program of action was immediately implemented." Reynolds decided to investigate. What he discovered shocked him. The White House, literally, was losing its second floor. A check of the records revealed that when the building had its last major overhauling in 1901, somehow the second floor had been completely ignored.

Succeeding "improvements" only served to weaken it more. When President's back porch: Was it the straw that almost broke the second floor of the White House?

porch had to be a $50,000 balcony? He's the President isn't he? Some people objected to the idea but the President is a persistent man and pretty soon the carpenters were all over the place. Putting up scaffolds. Pounding. Hammering. Ripping out windows. Cutting holes for doors.

The staid old mansion hadn't had such rough treatment since old Andrew Jackson's parties. The strain apparently was the straw that broke the camel's back.

One morning when the First Lady was on one of her inspection tours she noticed that the second-story floor sagged about two inches below the wall. She reported

He did get out on the balcony a couple of times, however.

Now PBA is handling the problem with typical government thoroughness. A careful survey, at a cost of $50,000, is being made to determine how much the remodeling job is going to cost. When this is done an estimate will be handed to Congress.

Commissioner Reynolds admits that the final cost might come to $1 million. That would be a deluxe job, including the installation of all-steel beams plus cleaning up after the carpenters.

In about 1950, Reynolds estimates, the President will have a second floor every bit as good as the second-floor balcony.

Under the sponsorship of the Lincoln Fellowship and the Gettysburg Freedom Train Committee, ceremonies will be held in the area where the decisive battle of the Civil War was fought July 1, 2 and 3, 1863. Morning events will center about the Freedom Train, which will be stationed behind Meade's School and opened for public inspection November 19 and 20. Here Attorney General Tom Clark will speak at 10 a. m., November 19, and officially start the train on its second tour.

Gov. Duff issued a proclamation urging that President Lincoln's Gettysburg Address be read in the public schools and other public assemblies in Pennsylvania on "Dedication Day," Friday, Nov. 19.

At noon, a parade will proceed to the Soldiers' National Cemetery where Oscar L. Chapman, Undersecretary of Interior, will be the principal speaker and will deliver his remarks from the same location as Lincoln did in November 19, 1863. After the address, John L. Lawler, Third Postmaster General, will sell the first issued sheet of stamps honoring Lincoln and his Gettysburg Address to the Lincoln Fellowship.

Colored blue, the stamp has a torch on the right side with the words "The Government of the people, for the people, and by the people." At the top on the left is the three cent denomination mark with the bust of Lincoln below and across the bottom of the stamp are palm leaves.

Two presidents or ex-presidents have died in the same year three times in U. S. history: Adams and Jefferson in 1826, Van Buren and Tyler in 1862, and McKinley and Benjamin Harrison in 1901.

it through channels to the Public Buildings Administration. A few days later Margaret noticed that one of the legs of a piano had quietly settled about a foot into the floor. She also dropped this information into the hopper for PBA.

Then the President, staring moodily at the ceiling one night in his second-floor study, noticed that one of the chandeliers appeared to be defying gravity at an angle of 10 degrees. Another memo to PBA.

Other strange phenomena were observed by the servants. Round objects rolled off flat tables. Loud creaking noises sometimes woke up all the occupants of the executive mansion. Pictures began to hang at peculiar angles.

A month or so later when the flow of information through the channels reached PBA, Commissioner W. E. Reynolds, a "program of action was immediately implemented." Reynolds decided to investigate. What he discovered shocked him. The White House, literally, was losing its second floor. A check of the records revealed that when the building had its last major overhauling in 1901, somehow the second floor had been completely ignored.

Succeeding "improvements" only served to weaken it more. When porch had to be a $50,000 balcony? He's the President isn't he? Some people objected to the idea but the President is a persistent man and pretty soon the carpenters were all over the place. Putting up scaffolds. Pounding. Hammering. Ripping out windows. Cutting holes for doors.

The staid old mansion hadn't had such rough treatment since old Andrew Jackson's parties. The strain apparently was the straw that broke the camel's back.

One morning when the First Lady was on one of her inspection tours she noticed that the second-story floor sagged about two inches below the wall. She reported new electrical wiring was installed by the electricians just drilled holes through the supporting beams. The plumbers drilled more holes through the beams when they put in a new heating system. Then more holes for a communications system and still more for a ventilating system.

As Reynolds puts it, "the second-floor supports probably look more like Swiss cheese than they do wood."

In addition to becoming dangerously weak, the wood had dried out, making the White House a real fire trap.

When the sad shape of the second floor was reported to the President he decided to take a few precautions for the safety of his family, himself and the staff, but not to do anything drastic until after election. Fire fighting apparatus was increased and only 15 persons at one time were permitted in the President's second-floor study.

He did get out on the balcony a couple of times, however.

Methodists Discuss Ackley Grange Has Town-Country Work A Housewarming

A report is received here that the Rev. Barnard F. Howe, of Salamanca, N. Y., presided at the meeting of the Erie Conference commission of town and country work at the Methodist church, held at Stone church in Meadville. Among the business transacted was a plan to ask the Erie conference members to be responsible for five displaced families from Europe. The commission suggested a man and his wife be brought to work at the Ida M. Gibbs Home for the Aged at Conneautville, also that one family be located on a farm on the lake shore near Dunkirk. The commission will see approval of its plan at the District Conference to be held in the conference territory during the next few weeks.

During the meeting, Rev. Arthur Kirk, Conference rural church missionary, reported a detailed survey under way at the H. A. Stinson church to determine future policies and services for that rural parish.

Akeley, Nov. 16—Several members of Ackley Grange, No. 870, gathered at the home of Mrs. Mary Wells, 1009 Madison avenue, Warren, to tender her a housewarming party. The affair was a complete surprise to the honored one and the evening passed quickly with various activities. Refreshments were served by the visitors and Anton Landquist, in behalf of those present, presented Mrs. Wells with a purse of money. She expressed her appreciation in a gracious manner.

Miss Helen Randall, of Polk, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Randall. The W. B. A. Review will meet Thursday afternoon at the Grange Hall.

Mrs. Eva Fuller and son, Charles, of Warren, visited Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller recently.

Ernest S. Munson and Junior Ekstrom, of Warren were callers at Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nelson's Sunday.
